

Name: Jane Luck

School Name: Stratton Upper School

Current Position: Lead Practitioner in English

Designation: Specialist Leader in Education

Main Phase: Secondary

Specialist Areas: English, assessment, mentoring/coaching, Teaching and Learning, Supporting the most able, ITT and NQT support

Statement

In my previous roles of head of year and head of faculty, I have worked to support and encourage both colleagues and students to achieve their potential. I am currently employed as an SSAT accredited lead practitioner and professional tutor to work with trainee and newly qualified teachers alongside my whole school responsibility for teaching and learning. I have a wealth of experience in delivering CPD courses targeted in my subject specialism of English and also on the development of pedagogical techniques.

Throughout my experience of teaching across the secondary age range and also in a middle school teaching English to years 5 and 6, I have consistently raised standards and improved examination results. As part of my role, I have introduced a range of systems to support outcomes including the development of a rigorous process of assessment, in my most recent secondment to a middle school, where I was also required to plan and develop schemes of work to inspire and challenge students in my subject area. I worked effectively to close the gap significantly between disadvantaged and other students and this was recognised in the most recent Ofsted report. As an experienced A level examiner and moderator, I have delivered conferences on moderation and standardisation to other examiners and have worked with schools to understand and embed the most recent specifications. I enjoy the challenge of working with colleagues to enable improvements and facilitate positive change.